Founded in 1988, UnderCurrents is an independent non-profit journal dedicated to the publication of critical work in the broad field of interdisciplinary environmental studies. Produced by graduate students at the Faculty of Environmental Studies, York University, the journal publishes work by writers from a wide variety of experiential and academic backgrounds. The journal seeks to openly and explicitly provide space for discussions of 'environment' which move beyond the limitations of traditional disciplinary boundaries, taking into account natural, built, social, and organisational factors. UnderCurrents is produced annually by an editorial collective, employing principles of non-hierarchical consensus building in the editing and publishing process.

UnderCurrents is an annual publication. The copyright in and to the individual texts, photographs, and illustrations in UnderCurrents is owned by the contributors as credited.
